

Companies involved in the consigning, transport and physical loading of dangerous goods beyond legally defined thresholds are required to appoint a Dangerous Goods Safety Advisor (DGSA) to guide them on the legal, safety and environmental aspects. This may apply to AIC members and trade assurance participants in feed, fertiliser and crop protection sectors.

DGSAs hold a qualification in specific types of transport, for example, road transport.

The AIC DGSA Register is a benefit to AIC members and Trade Assurance Participants as it aids finding and contacting a DGSA within a local area, with relevant specialist skills. It is held on the AIC website and updated regularly <https://www.agindustries.org.uk/sectors/transport/transport-resources.html>

A further source is the Department for Transport “Find a DGSA” webpage <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/find-a-dangerous-goods-safety-adviser>

DGSAs wishing to be included on the AIC DGSA Register should contact roberta.reeve@agindustries.org.uk

Note that from 1 January 2023, the requirement to appoint a DGSA extended to companies who act as consignors of dangerous goods including office-based consignors.

Note: AIC provides the DGSA Register as a service to its members and trade assurance participants. AIC does not accept liability for actions of individual persons or businesses listed if the DGSA services sourced here are used.
